The Code Revisers.

Governor Stuart has maintained the standard of his appointments in commission. Samuel A. Anderson. Martin P. Burks and Francis B. Hutton are men eminently qualified for the work assigned them and, however great the merit of the others of the ten from whom these were chosen, no other three men would have made a stronger commission. The work is in splendid hands. The personnel of the commission guarantees that it will be well done.

A Renegade Crusader.

Just before the return of Theodore Roosevelt to the United States from Spain, The Times-Dispatch made the prediction that he would lead the forces of reaction, "The preacher of a crusade," it is said, "is found fighting in the ranks of the infidel. ## Voice of the People

Mr. Rison Replies to Mr. Withers.

To the Editor of The Times-Dispatch. In The Times-Dispatch of the 29th of June appears a communication signed by Messrs. Eugene Withers, W. R. Guerrant and others, which by in ference creates the impression that I, as chairman of the City Democratic Committee, endeavored to Induce W. W. Holland not to circulate a petition last year for a primary in behalf of Captain John G. Lea for postmaster of this city.

I desire to say that such action on my part as is intimated in the said communication is not true. I in no way attempted to influence Mr. Hol-land in the above matter; in fact, I did not even speak to Mr. Holland or he to me regarding the same.

As regards my conversation with some members of the Democratic Executive Committee, as to the authority of the City Democratic Committee to order a primary for postmaster for this city, I took the ground then, as I do now that the State party sing grants now, that the State party plan grants no authority to the city committee, nor makes any provision ror such primary to be held, and only authorizes the holding of primaries for the sev-eral offices named in the plan.

Dr. Brady's Health Talks FIND THE CARRIER.

Month by month there accumulates more and more evidence to support the conclusion that the aerial transmis-sion of disease is a myth; that dust as a germ carrier is of little or no im portance in sanitation; that personal contact with the disease itself or with carriers, human, animal or insect, ex-plains the spread of infectious or epidemic disease.

Our foremost authorities on tuber-culosis have formulated the axiom that "a careful consumptive is not a men-ace to adult associates under ordin-ary conditions of life." Prolonged and intimate contact with the disease seems to be an essential factor of in-fection. If the careful, cleanly con-sumptive does not contaminate his environment, why should it be necessary to disinfect or fumigate his apart ments after his removal therefrom?

Importance of Personal Cleanliness.

As Dr. C. V. Chapin, the eminent health superintendent of Providence, observes, "terminal disinfection and fumigation of the apartments of conrumigation of the apartments of con-sumptives concentrates popular atten-tion on a very unimportant source of the disease." Dr. Chapin is the apostle of medical asepsis in America. He declares, and offers the most con-vincing practical proof to uphold the declaration, that if physicians and at-tendants of the sick would practice the same servinday degrees of present When a primary was discussed some declaration, that if physicians and atmonhts since for the judgeship of Petersburg, I understood that the State the same scrupulous degree of personal chairman decided that the party plan cleanliness—asepsis—as surgeons prac-did not authorize the same, and such primary was not held. For the same primary was not held. For the same reasons I hold that the matter of a primary for postmaster is not authorized. If the party plan does not authorize or empower a primary for certain State offices, it certainly would not do so for a Federal office.

In the communication above referred to, it appears to me there are some which is kept us simply trom forces which is kept us simply trom forces. which is kept up simply from force of custom—a custom founded on an-cient delusions that microbes traveled in the air from house to house during epidemics.

Mosquitoes the Carrier Yellow fever was strongly believed to be carried in the air, and on personal objects until the absolutely in-dispensable role of the stegomyla mosquito as the intermediary carrier of the disease was established. Now the only barricade between the yellow fever victim and the patient in the next bed is a screen of mosquito bar. The more we learn about germ car-riers and the mode of spread of communicable diseases, the less reliance we place on the use of fumigation. Even in smallpox the sanitarians say that quarantine and disinfection can-not control the disease without the general application of preventive inoc-ulation with vaccinia. The modern problem in sanitary administration is -Find the Carrier.

The trial began in January, 1857, and Redpath was sentenced to transportation for life. There are many places where the matter is set out in full.
